The Honorable Chuck Schumer
Minority Leader

The Honorable Mike Johnson
Speaker
U.S. House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

The Honorable Hakeem Jeffries
Minority Leader
U.S. House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Majority Leader Thune, Minority Leader Schumer, Speaker Johnson, and Minority Leader Jeffries:

On behalf of the undersigned 1003 organizations, which represent a broad and diverse coalition of housing and homelessness organizations; service and healthcare providers; family, youth, and senior care organizations; justice system and disability advocates; housing developers and investors; local businesses; and cities across U.S., we respectfully urge Congress to include language in a forthcoming appropriations bill directing HUD to renew all Continuum of Care (CoC) grants expiring in calendar year 2026 for a full year.

This approach builds on the two-year CoC renewal option authorized in FY24, changing the language from permissive to directive. The changes to funding priorities recently released in the CoC Notice of Funding Opportunity (NOFO) reflect the Administration's budget released last May. Both chambers recognized that such significant policy shifts should be addressed through authorizing committees and, accordingly, released FY26 appropriations that maintain CoC funding. Providing a full-year renewal will give communities the stability needed to adapt to funding shifts while allowing Congress time to work with the Administration to amend authorizing language.

Housing combined with support services is a proven solution to homelessness that promotes stability, health, and independence. There is a common misconception that services in supportive housing are optional. In fact, they are a core component of the model and critical to its success. Service providers consistently engage tenants through case management, substance use treatment, employment training, and other supports. These services help individuals stabilize and work toward independence, reducing reliance on costly emergency systems and improving long-term outcomes for both residents and taxpayers.

In the absence of stable housing, communities spend upwards of $15,000 per person annually on crisis services. Incarceration costs approximately $131 per day and hospitalization $1,200 per day. In contrast, housing paired with services costs approximately $72 per day and provides a stable foundation for recovery, employment, and long-term stability.

The CoC Program is a cornerstone of this work. Administered in partnership with local governments and nonprofit organizations, it provides approximately $3.6 billion annually across a wide range of interventions to address homelessness nationwide. It offers essential operating support for housing and services that help individuals and families exit homelessness and achieve long-term stability. This funding directly supports communities with rental assistance for people with disabilities, seniors, veterans, and families, as well as services that help them maintain housing and avoid costly institutional settings such as jails, hospitals, foster care, and nursing homes. These contracts are vital not only to tenants but also to the broader housing ecosystem, public health systems, and local economies.

Releasing a funding notice with the major policy changes reflected in the NOFO this late in the year will create significant disruption. While awards are expected May 1, 2026, funds are typically accessible 30 to 90 days later after grant agreements are finalized, which could delay funding until August in some instances. Communities will begin running out of funding as early as January 2026. This puts 170,000 households, many with disabilities, at risk of losing housing and services that support mental health, recovery, and long-term stability.

One goal of the NOFO is to shift greater funding priority toward transitional and time-limited housing. This transition cannot happen overnight, and the current supply of transitional housing is insufficient to meet the needs of individuals who may lose CoC-funded assistance. Establishing new units is estimated to take 12 to 18 months, during which unavoidable service gaps would result in increased rates of unsheltered homelessness. This shortage extends beyond transitional housing to include emergency shelter beds, which are also critically scarce across many regions.

CoC funding is often paired with Low-Income Housing Tax Credits (LIHTC), Community Development Financial Institution (CDFI) investments, and other public and private capital. These layered financing models depend on predictable federal support to function effectively. Recent LIHTC expansion demonstrates a continued commitment to increasing the affordable housing supply, but abrupt changes to supportive housing funding would create operational shortfalls, delay construction, and introduce financial instability for many LIHTC-supported developments.

Landlords would also face significant challenges. Many rely on these contracts to maintain building operations and make up the difference between what supportive housing tenants can afford and fair market rent. Unplanned funding changes place property owners in a difficult position, further constraining the already limited supply of affordable housing and increasing financial pressure on landlords.

We urge Congress to include language in FY26 appropriations to renew all CoC grants expiring in 2026 for a 12-month period. This modest, no-cost extension will allow time for thoughtful policy review while preserving housing for tens of thousands of Americans and protecting billions in public and private investment.

We thank you for your leadership and commitment to pragmatic solutions to homelessness. We stand ready to work with you to ensure communities across the country remain stable and resilient.

Sincerely,
