MORE INFO

As part of its commitment to foster a diverse and inclusive environment within and around the cardiovascular profession, NYACC established a Diversity & Inclusion ("D&I") Task Force aimed at ensuring New York's cardiology professionals represent fully the diverse patients we serve, believing strongly that all individuals seeking to become cardiologists enjoy opportunities to grow professionally — regardless of race, ethnicity, cultural background, age, gender/gender identity, sexual orientation, religion, disability or socioeconomic status.

This Task Force has launched a Mentorship Program for residents and hospitalists interested in pursuing a career in cardiology. These mentees will be paired up with more seasoned cardiologists in an effort to build stronger pipelines into the cardiovascular profession. Program participants will be offered the opportunity to present a capstone project, such as a case study or an abstract, with their mentors in conjunction with an NYACC-sponsored event.

Women, minorities and individuals who are traditionally underrepresented in the cardiovascular profession are encouraged to participate. To apply for the program as a 'mentee,' please click the "Apply Now" button or visit this link to complete a brief form and to submit your CV.

If you are interested in serving as a mentor or would like more information on what mentorship will entail, please email us at ask@ny-acc.org with your current CV.
